

PORCH PARTY KIT

Porching has become an Indianapolis tradition. The Harrison Center encourages people to gather on their porches with friends and neighbors to share food and drink to help cultivate a sense of community in our urban neighborhoods. These are some resources we've gathered to help make porching easy!

1 GROCERY LIST

Be creative! You can serve anything at a porch party, but these are some of our favorite options. Porch parties are also a great time to serve a family recipe!

Savory:

- Cheese, charcuterie, crackers.
- Nuts and olives.
- Veggies - pickles are fun, too!
- Pretzels and chips.

Sweet:

- Fruit! Strawberries, peaches, and other seasonal favorites.
- Cookies and chocolate.
- Ice cream! You could have a whole sundae bar.

Drinks:

- Lemonade or iced tea.
- Cocktails or cold beer are great for adults.

2 DRINK RECIPES

Strawberries and mint are easy additions to many classic drinks to make them more festive! Try adding them to your favorite lemonade recipe or to a gin and tonic for an adult beverage.

3 MUSIC

Put on some of your favorite tunes to enjoy in the background. Here are some playlists we've made especially for porching:

- Harrison Center's porching playlist: www.soundcloud.com/citygallery/sets/porch-parties
- Pam's playlist
- Grady's playlist

4 CONVERSATION STARTERS

- Share neighborhood stories. When and why did you move there? What are your favorite things about the neighborhood? Who do you know who has lived there the longest?
- What are your favorite Indy traditions (besides porching and racing, of course!)?
- Break out the dominos and cards, or make your own neighborhood scavenger hunt!
